THE BENBOW HOUSE FIRE.

An Open Letter From Gen. Jas. D. Glenn.

Mr. Editor:—I was not in the city on Saturday the 17th when the fire at the Benbow House occurred, but from what I have been told by reliable parties the reports in yesterday morning's Charlotte and Raleigh papers do the water company a manifest injustice, as one paper says that at the beginning of the fire there was no water at all and the other that the pressure would not throw water ten feet from the end of the nozzle. The engineer at the water station, Mr. J. E. Jenkins, states that at the time the fire alarm sounded that the gauges at the water station showed that the tank was full of water, but that when the alarm struck that he continued pumping and ran one pump to its full capacity for over four hours. The automatic gauge at the engine house which was put in by the city showed a pressure at 12:15 of 40 pounds, which is the maximum pressure at that station.

At the suggestion of Mr. J. S. Hunter, who is chairman of the water committee of the board of aldermen, Mr. R. R. King who is attorney and treasurer of the water company, had several reliable gentlemen who were entirely disinterested to go to the top of the water tank and see how much water there was in it. I understand that amongst these gentlemen who went to the top of the tank were Messrs. Kersey, Thomas, Albright, Marks and others, and these gentlemen who went up soon after the fire commenced, report that the water was within two feet of the top Two hours after the fire commenced when about a dozen streams had been running for that length of time, Mr. Albright went to the top of the tower and measured the water and says the water at that time was within six feet of the top, and even after the Winston fire companies arrived and three engines had been playing on the fire for over an hour and when as every one says the water was pouring in torrents from the Benbow the water gauge at the fire engine house showed there was 37 pounds of pressure. I have also been told that there were two hose on every hydrant that was near the Benbow. While the city hydrants all have double nozzles, it is not intended that two lines of hose be attached when only the pressure from the stand pipe is used, as a good result cannot be obtained when two hose are attached to one hydrant. The double hydrant is intended when the fire engine is used so it can be supplied with as much water as it can pump.

I make this statement not of my own knowledge but from what I have been told by reliable parties, not only because I think an injustice has been done the water company, but I think an injustice has been done the city to have it spread abroad from one end of the country to the other that the city is deficient in water facilities. The water plant was built under a contract with the city and was inspected and received by the city as fully coming up to all the specifications and requirements that had been agreed upon. The water company was afterwards sold and was bought by the present owners, who had nothing to do with putting in the original plant, but the present management is entirely by citizens of Greensboro who have as much interest in the prosperity and welfare of the town as any other citizens can have, and it had certainly been the aim and object of the present management to, at all times, keep the city supplied to the very fullest capacity of the plant, and if any one will take the trouble to look back at the register of the water pressure for the last twelve months they will see, at no time, has the city ever been out of water except when water had to be cut off for some unavoidable break in the main, and then it was repaired in a very short time.

Respectfully,
Jas. D. Glenn,
Pres. G. W. S. Co.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the houses. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Holyoke, June 19.—The president said this morning that he and Mrs. McKinley had recovered from their fatigue. The weather is perfect. The party proceeded to Northampton by special train at nine o'clock.

SIGHT-SEEING.

Northampton, June 19.—The presidential party arrived at half-past nine and a rousing welcome was accorded them. The president and Mrs. McKinley were constantly engaged in responding to cheers. The party visited Smith College, where the president watched the planting of the class tree. They then went to the residence of Capt. Williams, where a loving cup was presented to Mrs. McKinley by the Bethesda Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

TRIAL POSTPONED.

New York, June 19—The trial of Mrs. Barrow, the kidnapper, was postponed until next Monday upon application of Counsel Howe, who asked time for the employment of experts as to the sanity of the prisoner. The World today prints a photograph of a package of five thousand dollars in bills and asks who furnished them to Howe for the defense.

MURDER DENIED

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Hong Kong, June 19—The report of the murder of the three missionaries, Rev. H S. Phillips and wife and Miss Slir, and seven native converts, by a Chinese mob at Kien Yang, has been contradicted.

THE BOERS CAMPAIGN.

London, June 19—The St. James Gazette publishes what it claims as exclusive information concerning the plan of the Boer campaign drawn up by Gen. Joubert and approved by President Kruger. The plan includes the invasion of Cape Colony by the Boers, the capture of Cape Town and Kimberley, and the destruction of the Deber diamond mines.

ANOTHER ENGINE WANTED.

Petition to Board of Alderman to That Effect.

The following petition which has been in circulation since noon today has been signed by a large number of citizens, some of whom are among the largest taxpayers in the city:

"To the Hon. Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the city of Greensboro:

We the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the city of Greensboro, would respectfully petition your honorable body to purchase for the Eagle Hose Company No. 7, of said city a steam fire engine of sufficient power to afford proper protection to the city in case of fire, as the city has grown rapidly since the present engine was purchased and we believe that one engine is insufficient to afford proper protection."

The need of another engine was effectually demonstrated Saturday and it is to be hoped that the board of aldermen will act favorably on the petition.

Good Music.

And good cream and cake will go mighty well together, and you can get both by attending the lawn party to be given by the "Gate City Band" Tuesday night, June 17th, on the Eckle lawn. They need new uniforms for the tournament and for future occasions. We will give more than value for everything you get, and throw in a night of music. So don't spend all of your money, for the time is near, and you can spend it where you will see the result in the future. Don't forget the night.

Runaway This Morning.

Two large mules, hitched to a wagon loaded with brick, ran away from the site of the new Grissom building on South Elm street this morning. They started from the rear of the Fishblate-Katz Company's store, dashed into South Elm street from West Washington and down South Elm to the old rail road office, where they were stopped. Nothing was damaged, though the brick were scattered along the street in good order.

Winston Won.

Secretary Gage Saturday accepted the postoffice site offered by the Winston people for the new government building. The lot, which is the Alspaugh property, is at the corner of Fifth and Liberty streets, whereon is now situated the old First National Bank building. The department gives the owner, Mr. Joe Jacobs, sixty days in which to clear the site.

By simply pressing a button light is produced, and on taking the finger off the same is extinguished. Look out thieves, robbers and such like!

Services at the Methodist, Baptist, Methodist Protestant and Presbyterian churches were well attended yesterday morning. The little folks especially were out in great numbers at the different Sunday schools to learn all they could about the excursion next Thursday. It was a pretty scene to gaze upon the happy throng of children, full of enthusiasm and expectancy for the coming picnic of the year. All were in the best of spirits and everything passed off pleasantly and satisfactorily to the committee in charge.

It is the verdict of every one that the committee chose well when they selected Raleigh as the place for the excursion next Thursday, June 22. A more interesting place for excursionists could not be found within the state than the capital, especially to the children. It is expected that all the factories will shut down and High Point take a day off and that the ten coaches engaged will be filled before leaving here. The train will leave at 7 o'clock sharp so as to give us plenty of time in Raleigh. The High Point cornet band will furnish the music for the occasion. Fare for the round trip only $1 25. Help the children.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Davis died last evening at its home on south Main street and was interred in High Point cemetery this afternoon.

Capt. A. M. Rankin, W. C. Jones, J. Eugene Thompson, James Reid, M. Secrest, and E. Brown spent the day in Greensboro yesterday. Clyde Curlee, of Winston, also arrived home on the same train.

W. E. Lewis who has recently moved here from Greensboro and is running a confectionery and fruit store in the Secrest building, spent yesterday at his old home, returning this morning.

TO WAR AGAINST TRUSTS.

Conference to Be Held at St. Louis in September.

TILLMAN OF SOUTH CAROLINA

To Speak on the South's Agricultural Condition Before Industrial Labor Committee.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, June 19—It is reported by Virginia people coming to Washington that Governor Tyler will accept the invitation of Governor Sayers, of Texas, to attend the conference to be held September at St. Louis, to consider the best policy to pursue for securing legislation regarding the trust problem. It is said that Governor Russell, of North Carolina, Governor Lowndes, of Maryland, Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, and Governor Roosevelt, of New York, and in fact very few of the republican governors of the eastern states will attend the conference. It is expected, however, that all, or nearly all of the democratic governors, and many of the republican executives of the western, and northwestern states will accept Governor Sayers' invitation. It is not the purpose of Governor Sayers, it is said, to make the St. Louis conference in any way partizan, but the reason assigned by many of the republican governors for declining the invitation is that they believe that the question is one which will be settled satisfactorily in congress during the coming session, and that the republican party can be depended upon to take any desired action regarding the trust problem. In other words they think it would be impolitic for them to attend a conference upon a subject which is likely to be one of the leading political issues of the coming presidential campaign, and they prefer not to express their opinions in the matter of the growing power of combinations, and corporations prior to the assembling of the national conventions next year. On the other hand nearly all of the democratic governors, especially in the south, and the republican governors of the western and northwestern states are opposed to trusts on general principles and have nothing to lose by attending the conference which has been called.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, will, it is understood, appear before the industrial labor committee Tuesday. He has been invited and it is said has accepted the invitation. The senator will speak more particularly upon the agricultural condition of the south, upon which question he is regarded as an expert. It is also probable that the senator will have something of an interesting nature to say regarding the trust problem, which is now coming to the front as the leading question upon which the two great political parties of the country are likely to divide in the near future.

Representative Jones, of Virginia, was among the prominent visitors in Washington Saturday. He is much put out on account of the failure of Senator Daniel, and Senator Martin, to consult with himself, and the representatives from the 3rd and 8th districts in regard to the census supervisors. He does not charge that they were ignored on account of their connection with the anti-Martin movement, but he thinks that it looks that way. Representative Jones would not say anything regarding the future plans of those who favor the nomination of senators by popular ballot, but he says that he is not a candidate to succeed Martin, and does not know that there will be any candidate in the field against the senator.

A gentleman from Maryland at one of the hotels Sunday said that the candidacy of Senator Gorman is not attracting any attention in the state, and that the Maryland delegation will be for the renomination of Bryan, and for the reaffirmation of the last democratic platform.

Mr. Hunter Arnold, of Asheville, North Carolina, was in the city last Saturday on business before the internal revenue. He is one of the best known newspaper men in the state, being editor and proprietor of the Asheville Register, a republican newspaper, the only one in that section of the state. Mr. Arnold is on his way to visit his old home at Cadiz, Ohio, which he has not visited for five years. His father has been editor of the Cadiz Sentinel for the past thirty-seven years.

Postoffice sites in North Carolina have been changed as follows: Alpine, Sampson couety, three-fourth mile east; Copal Grove, Stanly county, three-fourth mile southwest; Nicholsonville, Cleveland county, one and a half miles west; and Varina, Wake county, one-half mile north.

NOTES ON THE FIRE.

Much of the Building Not Burned and Rooms Will Be Opened.

Thousands of people viewed the ruins of the Benbow Hotel yesterday. Crowds were around the remains of the building from morning till night, though none were allowed to enter the walls, Chief Scott having placed guards at all the doors to prevent people from going in. Manager Morton had a number of hands at work taking out such things as were not destroyed and the work of recovering small articles is going on today.

There are about twenty rooms on the north side of the building which were not badly damaged and these will be repaired and fitted up for guests at once. Capt. Fisher is still in Asheboro, but wired Manager Morton to take such action as he thought best.

Strange to say, neither the bar nor wine room were damaged in the least while flames raged on almost every side of both. Large pieces of burning timber fell through the elevator shaft and a case of matches sitting against the wall of the wine room caught on fire, but after burning to the tin case, the fire went out of its own accord. It is certain that the hotel will be rebuilt at once.

The individual losses have not yet been made known and probably never will. Mrs. O'Brien was away and it is thought that the report that she lost $500 in diamonds is untrue. Mr O'Brien said today that her destroyed trunks contained aboot $1,000 worth of bric-a-brac, silverware and dresses, however.

The Benbow House was bmilt in 1870-71 by Dr. D. W. C. Benbow, who, in 1892, sold it to Capt. Fisher for $50,000. It was first opened to the public in 1871 and has paid handsomely ever since.

A Colored Weekly.

A new weekly newspaper will be launched in the sea of journalism in Greensboro this week. The paper will be published by colored people and willl be known as "The Weekly Messenger." J. F. M. Morrow will be editor and A. E. Rankin, business manager. We wish the new paper success.

MONDAY, JUNE 19, 1899.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE APPROACHING ELECTION.

That was a crushing disaster last Saturday. Our city was seriously crippled, and the state lost one of its finest and best-regulated hotels

The incident vastly accentuates the importance of the city election called for July 18.

We are now in the beginning of our importance as a city. Upon the approaching date when we shall be called upon to answer a most vital question, depends our future importance and industrial prosperity.

Greensboro cannot afford to be longer at the mercy of the fire fiend. If a strong wind had been blowing Saturday, a large portion of the city must have been destroyed before outside assistance could have been secured.

It has now been clearly demonstrated why the bond issue must be secured. Those who have the welfare of the city at heart must carry the election at all hazards. If the amount to be voted upon were for water works alone, without the other advantages which we are so deeply in need of, it would be the part of wisdom for Greensboro to vote it.

The North Carolina republicans are going to make a tremenduous fight to defeat the constitutional amendment at the polls. Col. Fred Olds, Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, says:

State Democratic Chairman Simmons is in possession of information which he regards as straight and reliable, that an anti-amendment campaign fund of $15,000 has been secured by the republicans, and that the plan is to use the most of this sum in paying for legal opinions of such lawyers as can be induced to write opinions against the constitutionality of the amendment. When they are in hand, they are to be printed and the state is to be flooded with them. In addition to this method of distribution, he is also informed, Senator Pritchard, in the senate, and Congressman Linney, in the house, are to manage to get these opinions published in the Record, as a part of speeches made by them, and have them distributed by the government.

Of course it is easy for the republicans to raise this sort of fund. They have only to say to Mr. Hanna: "For the purpose of keeping the negroes in the close states in the north and west we must make a show of standing by them in the south. We want $15,000 for this purpose," and Mr. Hanna will at once turn it over. While the national republican party cares nothing for the negro vote in the south, it is very anxious about the negro vote in the north.

If there are any democratic lawyers in this state who can be persuaded to appear on the side of negro domination against the white people of North Carolina, they do not deserve the respect of their color, and should be ostracized from Anglo-Saxon society.

Durham is all right. Saturday her entire fire department, companies Nos. 1 and 2, together with the hook and ladder company, and a force of 500 men, were preparing to come up on a special train when a message arrived announcing that Greensboro wanted another engine—ours had broken down—and the Durhamites saw they could not be of service. We appreciate the feeling just the same.

The Maloney directory for Greensboro, which has just been issued, gives the city, with its outstanding villages, 19,110 inhabitants.

The Soliloquy of the Bass-Viol.

Correspondence Telegram.

The reception is ended: the last guest has departed: the lights that illuminated the fairy-like scene have long since been extinguished, and the parlor, dining-room and halls, with their waving palms and rare flowers are left to the mercy of the moonbeams that steal through the windows and softly glimmer over all.

Down the long hall in the shadow of the gymnasium stands the piano looming dark and grim in the midst of the surrounding daintiness; and beside it, leaning mournfully against a table, is the bass-viol, which only a few hours before had helped to fill the big building with strains of "The Georgia Camp-meeting," as it responded to the hand of the master, who had always cherished it with loving care, carefully wrapping it in its warm covering and tenderly taking it home with him. But tonight all this has changed and a long, shuddering sigh swept over the strings, producing a mournful cadence that died away in the distance as the viol straightened its self up and looked around the hall.

"Oh, how my poor back aches, leaning so long against this table; and I am so cold without my covering." "What can my master mean by leaving me in such a sorry plight?" 'Here my bow is gone: I saw those bad boys take it away with them in the band-wagon; but my master wasn't with them, for I heard the master of this building ask the boys where he had gone, and they said they didn't know, and then they went away and left poor me to break my back in this uncomfortable way, and leaving my poor master no way of getting home."

"I saw him myself about half past twelve, hat in hand, running out of the back door with his eyes staring, hair standing straight on top of his head, and as he passed me I heard him murmur "those devisish girls." So I sadly fear something has frightened him, but what can it be that would make him forget me so long?"

"So many strange things are happening this evening that I am sadly at a loss to know what it all means."

Just then the piano gave a trill of laughter that ran all up and down the scales, and broke in with "my brother, your plight is indeed a sad one, and I feel very sorry for your being left the way you are, but cheer up—this night will not last forever and tomorrow you will be carried home; for I heard your master tell the young man who took your bow that he had to go home the back way, and for him to say to the crowd that he would call for you in the morning." "He only got that far when a young lady came towards him, and seeing her, he skipped out of the back door and I heard him falling over himself as he went down the steps."

"The young lady went as far as the the door and caught a glimpse of him running down the walk, and then she laughed softly and said something about a modern 'Don Quixote,' then walked away."

"It is very hard for me to understand, for people are so different from musical instruments; while we sometimes get out of harmony, one with the other,—they, never seem to harmonize at all; but insist upon playing arpeggio in a loud harsh way on one another's feelings, where it should be a mild, soft minor instead." "I don't wonder, brother viol, that you feel the neglect of your master sadly, but when you have seen as much of the world as I have you will learn to accept the inevitable without a murmur." But you may be sure that a woman is at the bottom of this neglect for it was ever thus since the world began,"—and with one soft, rippling chord, breathed from its innermost depths, the piano lapsed into silence.

The great clock in the hall ticked on: the moon-beams danced merrily down the long hall, stopping now and then to look curiously at the grim viol, and then moving on in their happy, laughing way.

Just as the dawn was breaking the viol yawned, stretched its neck, and in its deepest bass voice called to the piano: "My dear musical sister: During these tedious hours I have been thinking over my master's strange conduct, and have arrived at a solution of it all at last. I know when he started from home with me last night that he was dead broke, for I heard him say so, and no doubt that young lady had expected him to take her home; and he, knowing he was out of cash, skipped out the back way and walked home, leaving her to take care of herself. I am sure I am right, for I have known him to do similar things before, where young ladies are concerned; and it is a trait in my dear master's character that I do not approve of."

"No," broke in the piano, in a soft staccato, "neither do I, for I could never respect a man who would treat me so, and I am sure that young lady is disgusted with him."

And then they started in to play a soft medley, wherein they expressed all of their pent up feelings, that the night and its strange features had called forth.

The Best Remedy for Flux.

"In July of last year I was taken with a severe attack of flux," says Mr. Joe Baker, of Allentown, Tenn. "I procured a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and used about half of it and it effected a complete cure. This is the best remedy for bowel trouble on the market. C. E. Holton, druggist.

Fair Customer—"Are these eggs strictly fresh?" Grocer—"Yes, mum. The chickens that suply we with eggs don't lay anything but fresh."

Cholera Morbus Quickly Cured.

"During the hot weather last summer I had a severe attack of cholera morbus, necessitating my leaving my business," says Mr. C. A. Hare, of Hare Bros., Fincastle, Ohio. "After taking two or three doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I was completely relieved and in a few hours was able to resume my work in the store. I sincerely recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach or bowel trouble. C. E. Holton, druggist.

Abner—"This here paper mentions 'bout diplomatic relations with Spain bein' resumed What air diplomatic relations, anyhow?" Josh—"Reckon they must be the kind that uses their vacation ter visit our farm."

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Boils and Pimples Give Warning.

AN UNFAILING SIGN THAT NATURE IS APPEALING FOR HELP.

When Nature is overtaxed, she has her own way of giving notice that assistance is needed. She does not ask for help until it is impossible to get along without it. Boils and pimples are an indication that the system is accumulating impurities which must be gotten rid of; they are an urgent appeal for assistance—a warning that can not safely be ignored.

To neglect to purify the blood at this time means more than the annoyance of painful boils and unsightly pimples. If these impurities are allowed to remain, the system succumbs to any ordinary illness, and is unable to withstand the many ailments which are so prevalent during spring and summer.

Mrs. L. Gentile, 2004 Second Avenue, Seattle, Wash., says: "I was afflicted for a long time with pimples, which were very annoying, as they disfigured my face fearfully. After using many other remedies in vain, S. S. S. promptly and thoroughly cleansed my blood, and now I rejoice in a good complexion, which I never had before."

Capt. W. H. Dunlap, of the A. G. S. R. R., Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "Several boils and carbuncles broke out upon me, causing great pain and annoyance. My blood seemed to be in a riotous condition, and nothing I took seemed to do any good. Six bottles of S. S. S. cured me completely and my blood has been perfectly pure ever since."

is the best blood remedy, because it is purely vegetable and is the only one that is absolutely free from potash and mercury. It promptly purifies the blood and thoroughly cleanses the system, builds up the general health and strength. It cures Scrofula, Eczema, Cancer, Rheumatism, Tetter, Boils, Sores, etc., by going direct to the cause of the trouble and forcing out all impure blood.

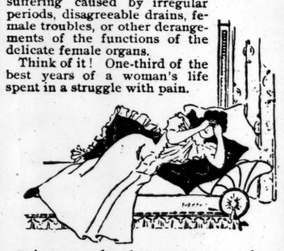
It is scientifically affirmed, that in the thirty years which follow the change from the girl to the woman, beginning at fifteen and ending at forty-five, the average woman spends ten years of that time in physical suffering caused by irregular periods, disagreeable drains, female troubles, or other derangements of the functions of the delicate female organs.

Think of it! One-third of the best years of a woman's life spent in a struggle with pain.



It is no wonder that women everywhere are full of unbounded praise and gratitude for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It does away with all suffering due to the diseases of the organs peculiarly feminine. It regulates the periods, stops the disagreeable drains heals inflamed and ulcerated conditions, and cures female weakness. It brings all the delicate female organs into natural, healthy and harmonious action.

There is no opium or other narcotic, and no alcohol, whisky or other alcoholic stimulant in "Favorite Prescription."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, without charge. Write freely. Every letter is treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential.

Mrs. M. F. Long, of Le Loup, Franklin Co., Kans., writes: "Words cannot express how grateful I am for your kind advice and good medicines. I have been in poor health more or less all my life In the past nine years grew worse, and two years ago I was so poorly could hardly drag around. I consulted a specialist, and he said I had ulceration and that an operation would have to be performed. This did not seem necessary to me, so time went by, and I at last wrote to Dr. Pierce asking advice. I bought two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' two of the 'Discovery' and two vials of the 'Pellets' as advised. When commencing I weighed 119½ pounds, and after taking one bottle of each I was like a new woman, In one month I gained eight pounds. After taking two bottles each of the medicines named, I began to look like a woman and not like a wasted skeleton. That weary tired feeling all left me, and it did seem as though life was worth living."

To cure piles, strike at the root—that's the way. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve strikes at the root—it removes the cause, quickly and permanently. Don't squander time and money trying to remove the effects. Howard Gardner.

She—"Dr. Thirdly has a splendid voice. There is such volume in it." He—"You mean volumes." "Volumes?" "Yes; there must be all the the books in the Bible in in it, judging by the length of the time he talks."

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Bronson—"Is it so that Newed has an addition to his family?" Johnson—"No; he calls it a multiplication. Triplets, you know."

W. M. Gallagher, of Bryan, Pa., says: "For forty years I have tried various cough medicines. One Minute Cough Cure is best of all." It relieves instantly and cures all throat and lung troubles, coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, la grippe and pneumonia. Howard Gardner.

No, Maude, dear, we have never understood that lantern-jawed persons enlighten conversation only.

The Best Yet.

Schulkyel on religion, patriotism and love, illustrated with stereopticon views, Monday and Wednesday, June 19 and 21, at Academy of Music. Tickets on sale at Gardner's Drug Store and at the door. Coupon tickets good both nights. Only 35 cts.

There isn't so much difference between an air brake and an heir broke—both things call a halt on fast traveling.

What is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure? It is the newly discovered remedy, the most effective preparation ever devised for aiding the digestion and assimilation of food, and restoring the deranged digestive organs to a natural condition. It is a discovery surpassing anything yet known to the medical profession. Howard Gardner.

"It's a good ideas," says Brother Watkins, "fer a feller ter git a run fer his money, purvidin' de run ain't through it."

There is a time for all things. The time to take DeWitt's Little Early Risers is when you are suffering from constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, indigestion or other stomach or liver troubles. They never gripe. Howard Gardner.

Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well: now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

Discord!

Cape Discord, off the coast of Greenland, is said to be sinking into the sea. It may be possible that some seal hunting native may slip in with it and suddenly find himself like Jonah of old, scrambling around in the interior of a big whale. Result: Discord and discontent.

No discord or discontent among the numerous buyers who are taking advantage of the
